

Treatment Costs

If you receive treatment under the National Health Service this is free of charge, other than if an appliance is lost or damaged.

Fees for Private Treatment

Initial Consultation

£110.00 for a child (under the age of 18) or £125.00 for an adult.

This includes a full consultation (outlining the problem, its causes and possible treatment options), study models, radiographs and a private patient report with complete costings.

Treatment Fees

Fees are individually assessed and depend upon the duration and complexity of treatment. As a result they can range from £200.00 to £4,000.00.

As a guide, full upper and lower fixed appliance treatment costs from £2950.00 followed by £270.00 for retention. There are, of course, many shorter and cheaper active treatment options (particularly in adults), but their suitability and cost have to be assessed on an individual basis.
